Based on the investigation, the investigating authority has found that there was an increase in imports of the products, absolute and relative to the domestic production during the period of injury determination that is from 1 October 2012 to 30 September 2015; and under such conditions, it has caused serious injury to the domestic industry that produces like products or directly competitive products in respect of the decline in market share, domestic sales in terms of value, profitability, negative cash flow, and reduction in employment and wages.

The definitive safeguard measures applicable in relation to the products shall take the form of definitive safeguard duties and shall be imposed on the countries specified in the schedule below.
