The Amended Workers' Minimum Standards of Housing and Amenities Act 2019 (Act 446) which was gazetted on 18 September 2019 and came into full enforcement on 1 September 2020, is aimed to improve the living condition, basic facilities for workers as well as the elements of safety and hygiene at workers' accommodation in the Country.

A media statement from the Ministry of Human Resources, Malaysia dated 18 February 2021 had announced that the amended Act 446 under the Emergency Ordinance has further strengthen the Act by delegating enforcement powers to more Authorities and Agencies to ensure the compliance of the Act. Under the Emergency Ordinance, any offence of non-compliance by employers or workers accommodation providers will result in a hefty penalty that is up to RM200,000 fine or jail up to three years or both or to be compounded up to RM100,000.
